Viking Longship Lecture: Things We Think We Know

Friday, September 21, 2012
7 p.m. potluck, 8 p.m. program

Please arrive with potluck dishes by 6:45 p.m. At Christ Lutheran Church, 3810 Meredith Drive Fairfax, Virginia 22030. Directions: www.norwaydc.org/directions

A number of things we take for granted about Viking Age ships and boats may, or may not be true. Beyond the common “truisms” that Vikings did not have horns on their helms (maybe), Bruce Blackistone will discuss such topics as sail shape, raising and lowering the mast, “rowing chests,” and a number of other things we tend to accept as conventional wisdom in our current understanding of the Viking era.

About Bruce Edward Blackistone

Bruce Edward Blackistone describes himself as "a retired National Park Service employee, part-time blacksmith, and seasonal Viking ship captain." He has been involved in early medieval reenactment since 1969, and has skippered various replica longships (of varying degrees of historic accuracy) since 1972. Bruce blames it all on his mother, who sent him to the Kirk Douglas movie, The Vikings, in 1958 because she thought it would be “educational.”

He is also the author of the epic parody Beowabbi, and thus is a footnote in modern Anglo-Saxon literary circles.
In Memory of Einar Gomo

October 1, 1921 - July 20, 2012
Einar was born in Beistad, Norway, son of the late Johan Gomo and Julie Bratberg Ostras. He later became a naturalized citizen of the United States, and was a member of the Sons of Norway Washington Lodge in years before 2000. Einar worked at the Corcoran Gallery of Art until his retirement.

His survivors include his wife, Cornelia, and two sons Wayne (Ann), of Kernersville, NC, and Erick (Suzanne), of Woodbridge, VA., along with children John and June Gomo.

Live Your Heritage: Viking Ship Cruise

We have arranged for a voyage on the Sae Hrafn (Sea Raven), the Longship Company Viking ship located in Avenue, MD, at noon on October 20th. We are hoping for at least a four-hour cruise with a shore break in the middle. The fall colors should be great and the temperatures pleasant.

The rowing is not strenuous and we will hoist the sail, but also plan to have a towboat available if the wind gods are not favorable. Take this chance to live your heritage! Sorry, no pillaging on this voyage. Avenue, MD is about an hour and 40 minute ride from the Lodge. More information to follow. Contact Henry at 703-815-3467 or henry.hansen@cox.net.

Musical Storytelling:
KorLuren

Their roots are nordic folk music but they have been bridgebuilders to other cultures and musical genres both in their music life and their work life. Their projects have taken them to South Africa, South America and the Balkans. They have sung for Kofi Annan and at the Oslo Center for Peace and Human Rights. They have started student-teacher exchange programs and they have shared the best of nordic culture with immigrant youth in Norway.

Wherever they have been, they have shared their nordic musical roots with local artists they have met and have taken back with them folk music from other cultures which they have incorporated in their repertoire.

Their latest project they will present their latest project which is called "Himmelbrever" . . . an epic verse similar to "Draumkvedet" and based on a young girl's mystical experience in a local village near the Swedish border a few hundred years ago.

KorLUREN put the story to verse, in the local dialect, and composed music to go with it, in a folk music style. For this project they engaged three professional folk musicians. It has been so successful that these three will accompany them on the tour to the US.

Oral Storytelling:
Anne Elisebeth Skogen

Skogen is a Norwegian storyteller living in Suldal, Ryfylke, close to the city of Stavanger. She works as an artist and storyteller and has a Norwegian storyteller education from Oslo (university level).

She will perform an oral story telling about the first Norwegian emigrant ship, Restauration (1825), and its passengers, the sloopers. The performance is based on both literature and original sources.

Skogen has done storytelling performances at many locations, including The Norwegian Seamen's Church in New York, Mindekirken in Minneapolis, various schools and organizations, and aboard a replica of Restauration at a costal festival in Egersund, Norway.

"A heavenly evening" with KorLUREN and friends

In addition to the Oct. 6 event, KorLuren will have an informal concert followed by dancing at Norway House on Friday, October 5. The concert will be held from 8-9 pm. Bring a goodie to share.
President’s Letter

Dear Members,

It has been a busy summer. We had two great lodge picnics at Norway House. The major accomplishment of our summer was the submission our lodge’s application to the Internal Revenue Service requesting that they retroactively restore our tax exempt status. Special thanks to Clarissa Peterson for spearheading this project.

I hope you’ve had an enjoyable summer and are ready to explore Viking/Nordic culture with us.

We have an exciting lineup of Fall events scheduled. Bruce Blackistone of the Longship Company will present our Friday September 19th lodge meeting program on Viking Longships – Things We Think We Know. Bruce’s talks are always educational and entertaining. We’ll join the Longship Company for a cruise aboard their Viking ship replica, Sae Hrafn, on October 19th.

The weekend of October 5-6th we’re hosting a Norwegian Heritage Festival in Fairfax City. The timing coincides nicely with Leif Erikson Day – Leif Landed First! We have some top notch entertainment direct from Norway! Don’t miss out on this opportunity. Anne Elisabeth Skogen of Suldal, Ryfylke, Norway is our featured storyteller at the Festival. She will present a program titled “With Restauration through Hell Gate to The Promised Land”. Anne created this oral storytelling performance about the first Norwegian emigrant ship to the US, Restauration (1823) and its passengers the Sloopers. Saturday’s activities will be held in the Stacy C. Sherwood Community Center in Fairfax City from 4:00-7:00 p.m.

The Norwegian musical group KorLuren will kick off the Norwegian Heritage Festival weekend Friday night at Norway House. They will perform a concert from 8:00-9:00 p.m. followed by dancing. Saturday, KorLuren will present their latest project – "Himmelbrevet" an epic verse with music in a folk music style and will share their musical talent as well as provide opportunities for dance.

We’re planning to once again have a booth at the Fairfax City Fall Festival on Saturday, October 13th. Please email Susie Fosaaen at fosaaens@earthlink.net if you can volunteer for a few hours that day.

November we’re co-sponsoring a lecture by Irene Berman at George Washington University in conjunction with the Royal Norwegian Embassy and the other area Norwegian organizations. We’re joining the Norwegian Seaman’s church at their Bazaar in Maryland Veteran’s Day weekend. November will feature our annual Nordic Feast complete with lutefisk and lefse. Look for youth dancing lessons in November too!

I hope you will join us for some or all of the exciting activities we’ve planned for you this Fall.

Hilsen,
Kristin

On the subject of Viking ships:

The Oseberg ship (Osebergskipet) was discovered in a burial mound at the Oseberg farm near Tonsberg in Vestfold county, Norway. It now resides in the Viking Ship Museum in Oslo. Parts of the well-preserved ship date from approximately 800 A.D., but the ship is thought to be older. It was excavated in 1904-05.

Irene Levin Berman: “We Are Going to Pick Potatoes,”
Norway and the Holocaust, the Untold Story

The Norwegian American organizations of metropolitan Washington together with the Royal Norwegian Embassy present Irene Levin Berman, author of “We Are Going to Pick Potatoes,” Norway and the Holocaust, the Untold Story. The event will be held at The George Washington University (location TBA) on Wednesday, November 14, 7:00-8:30 p.m.

A reception and book signing will follow the program. Space is limited. Registration will open October 15, visit http://ireneberman.eventbrite.com/ to register.

“We Are Going to Pick Potatoes”, Norway and the Holocaust, the Untold Story is not just a narrative of the Holocaust but also a remembrance of growing up Jewish in Norway during and after World War II. Copies of the book will be available for purchase.

Irene Levin Berman, a child Holocaust survivor, was born and raised in Norway. Nazi Germany invaded Norway in 1940 and by fall 1942 the deportation of Norwegian Jews had begun. Irene, age 4, and her family escaped to neutral Sweden. Of Norway’s 2000 Jews, almost 40% were deported. Seven members of Irene’s father’s immediate family were among the 771 victims murdered in Auschwitz. Years later Irene married an American and has lived in the United States most of her life. In 2007, she began her journey into the past in order to tell the untold story. To learn more, visit norwayandtheholocaust.com and norway.org.

Sponsoring organizations for this event include Sons of Norway, The Norwegian Society, The Norwegian Ladies Club, and the Norwegian Church of Washington.

Nordic Dancers Fall Season

The Nordic Dancers of Washington, D.C., begin their fall season Wednesday, September 12, at 7:30 at Highland View Elementary School in Silver Spring, Maryland, and, with the exception of the weeks of Thanksgiving and Christmas and New Year’s Day, will meet regularly on Wednesdays until June.

Come and learn traditional folk dances of Norway, Denmark, Finland, Iceland, and Sweden. Newcomers are welcome; no prior dance experience is necessary.

For more information, contact Chris Kalke at 301-864-1596 or ckalke@verizon.net, or see the website sites.google.com/site/nordicdancersdc/.

The Nordic Dancers welcome children and their parents to participate on the second Wednesday of every month from 7:30 to 8:30.
Host a Norwegian Exchange Student

Submitted by Hal Stavland

AFS is an international non-profit volunteer-based organization working for peace through student exchange.

AFS Norway has a number of Norwegian exchange students (from ages 16-17), still in Norway, waiting for a host family in the US to host them. AFS USA are having trouble finding host families for them all — this is why AFS Norway now steps in using our contacts in the United States.

The Norwegian exchange students will be in America for about 10-11 months, attending high school while they live with their host families. Both the student and the host family will learn a lot about other cultures during the stay, and grow tight lifetime lasting bonds.

I personally lived in America as an exchange student when I was young, and I still go back every now and then to visit my host family, friends and teachers.

Please contact me (Hal Stavland) if you would like to receive more information.

Preferred way of contact is email: halvor.stavland@afs.org.

If calling, please note time difference in Norway.

Office number, ask the receptionist for Hal: (011) 4722 3179 00 (9 a.m.-4 p.m. Norwegian time, which is 3 a.m. - 12 p.m. ET)

Cell-phone: (011) 4799 1053 96 (9 a.m.-11 p.m. Norwegian time, which is 3 a.m. - 5 p.m. ET)

Hidden Falls Author Carla Danziger

Hidden Falls was the August selection for the Book Discussion Group of St. Christopher’s Episcopal Church in Springfield, and the author Carla Danziger was invited to the discussion. Participants were very enthusiastic about Carla’s book, saying that it was not only a well-written mystery but also a very interesting source of information about Norway. We should be proud of our lodge member’s literary success!

In Memory of Patricia (Barrett) Klove

Patricia Barrett Klove (Pat) died July 24, 2012, age 87, born Oct. 7, 1924. She joined Washington Lodge in 1978; she was a leader among us for about 30 years until ill health forced her to retire from active duty. She served as Distribution Manager of the lodge newsletter for about 15 years, heading a volunteer staff of 6 persons to prepare the mailings each month. She was chair of the Stitchery Booth at the annual holiday bazaar for 25 years. Her hobbies centered in needlework (Hardangersom and stitchery), gardening, and traveling.

She was born in Washington, D.C., the first of two children of Alfred and Vernye (Schaffer) Barrett. In the late 1800s her grandmother Barrett emigrated to USA from Switzerland and grandfather Barrett from England. On Pat’s mother’s side her ancestors arrived from Germany, Scotland, and other European countries before 1775. Since at least one of her direct ancestors fought in the American Revolution, Vernye was eligible and became a member of the Daughters of the American Revolution, as did her daughter, Pat.

Pat grew up in Wash., D.C., and graduated from old Central High School (now Cardoza). She earned a Bachelor of Arts degree, majoring in biology and English at Western Maryland College, Westminster, Maryland. Her graduate studies were in physical therapy at Duke University, Durham, North Carolina, where she stayed for a year after graduation to work in Duke University Hospital.

She moved back to Washington, D.C. and did physical therapy at George Washington University Hospital for four years. In 1950 she was married to Robert Charles Klove, a geographer, who was the Assistant Director, Geography Division, U.S. Census Bureau. They first met at National Presbyterian Church, Washington, D.C., the church in which Pat grew up. Husband Bob was Norwegian on both sides of his family. He died in 1995.

With the birth of 3 daughters, Pat enjoyed being a full time homemaker and mother. When the children were grown, she resumed her career and worked 5 years at the Arthritis Center, Washington, D.C., a private doctors’ group, and then retired.

Pat, Bob and the children lived at Fort Washington, Maryland, where they joined Southminster Presbyterian Church and where Pat became a Deacon and Presbyter. Later they moved to Lake Barcroft, Falls Church, Virginia.

They had three children, Kathryn Klove, of Fort Washington, Maryland, Martha Embrey of Clifton, Virginia, and Nancy Klove of Atlanta, Georgia, Pat is survived by 3 grandchildren.

She died in Springfield, Virginia, and was buried at Fairfax City Cemetery, Virginia.

Spread a Little Sunshine

Please keep our new Sunshine Committee Chair, Frank Jones, informed about members who are ill, undergoing surgery, recuperating, or homebound for an extensive period. We will send them best wishes from the lodge as a whole. Our members care about each other and like to reach out to their friends who may need a little sunshine in their lives. Contact Frank at 703-243-5779 or care@norwaydc.org.

First Day of School in Norway

School is starting soon for children all over the world. In Norway it is the same, the royal family makes themselves ready for Princess Ingrid Alexandra and Prince Sverre Magnus to go back to school.

Prince Sverre Magnus began Jansløkka school in Asker last year. The Prince was accompanied by his parents and by his grandmother, the Queen, on his first day at school.

Once getting to school, the Prince met an “older student”, his sister, Princess Ingrid Alexandra.

Princess Ingrid Alexandra (8) started school two years ago and this fall will begin in the 3rd grade. Her first day of school in 2010 was historic, in such a way that it was the first time an heir to the throne attended the local school.

As expected, there was a large attendance when Princess Ingrid Alexandra began Jansløkka school in Asker. In addition to mom and dad, the king and grandma (Mette-Marit's mother) Marit Tjessem were along for the first day of school.

Princess Ingrid Alexandra was the first in the Royal Family who started Jansløkka school. Crown Prince Haakon and Princess Martha Louise attended Smestad, a good distance away from their childhood home in Skaugum. Smestad was also King Harald’s elementary school, but because of the war, his first day of school was in the United States.

The king was very pleased with his grandchild's first day of school. “It has been a nice day. I think it's nice Prince Haakon and Princess Mette-Marit have chosen differently”, he said when he met the press. “Although the school now has a student with royal blood it does not change the procedures of the first day of school.

Skolestart i norge

Skolestart kommer snart for barn over hele verden. I Norge er det det samme, kongefamilien gjør seg klar til at begynner på skolen igjen Prinsesse Ingrid Alexandra og Prins Sverre Magnus dratilbake til skole.

Prins Sverre Magnus begynte på Jansløkka barneskole i Asker ifjor. Prinsen ble fulgt av sine foreldre og av sin bestemor Dronningen på sin første skoledag.

Vel frame møtte Prinsen også en “gammel elev”, søsteren Prinsesse Ingrid Alexandra.

Prinsesse Ingrid Alexandra (8) begynte for ovrig på skolen for to år siden, og går denne høsten i 3. klasse. Hennes skolestart i 2010 var historisk, i så måte at det var første gang en tronarving gikk på sin nærskole.

Som ventet var det stort oppmøte da prinsesse Ingrid Alexandra begynte på Jansløkka barneskole i Asker. I tillegg til mamma og pappa var også kongen og mormor Marit Tjessen med på første skoledagen.

Prinsesse Ingrid Alexandra var den første i Kongefamilien som begynte på Jansløkka skole. Kronprins Haakon og Prinsesse Märtha Louise gikk på Smestad, en godt stykke unna barndomshjemmet Skaugum. Smestad var også Kong Haralds barneskole, men på grunn av krigen ble hans første skoledag i USA.

Genealogical Research Orientation Classes at the Library of Congress

The "Resources for Genealogical Research at the Library of Congress" course, taught by reference librarians, is designed as a basic introduction for genealogical researchers using the Library of Congress collections.

Each session includes an introduction to genealogical research: what it is and what it involves; the resources and facilities of the Local History and Genealogy Reading Room: compiled family histories, local histories, city directories, telephone books, the reference collection, how to search the Library's online catalog, and an overview of automated resources on the Internet.

How to locate published census schedules and indexes, ship passenger lists, military service and pension records, military lists and registers, cemetery records, church records and registers, court records, land records, and registers of births will be included.

A tour of the LH&G Reading Room will conclude the class. The orientation classes are offered by the Local History and Genealogy Reading Room reference staff on the following Wednesday mornings:

- September 5 and 19
- October 10 and 24
- November 14
- December 5 and 19

Orientation sessions will run from 10:30 a.m. to 12:00 p.m. Research orientation sessions will commence in the Local History & Genealogy Reading Room, LJ G42 of the Thomas Jefferson Building.

For additional information, or to register for a class, call the Local History and Genealogy Reading Room at (202) 707-5537 Monday-Saturday between 8:30 a.m. and 5:00 p.m. You can also register via an online registration form.

http://www.loc.gov/rr/genealogy/signup.php

If you don't already have a Reader Registration Card, you must come to the Library by 9:30 a.m. the day of the class to apply for a card (picture identification required).

In Memory of Suzanne Wildenradt

Lodge members are saddened to learn of the death of Suzanne Wildenradt, daughter of lodge member Charles Solem. Suzanne died of breast cancer in California where she lived with her husband Carl and teenage daughters Natalie and Annika.

Charles Solem and his wife Marcia live in Alexandria. Charles is the nephew of Margaret Solem DeRoche. Suzanne is also survived by two brothers Thomas Solem and Chris Solem of Virginia. Condolences go out to the Wildenradts in California and Solems in Virginia.
Scientists with the University of Oslo made a surprising discovery 20 years ago in a lake just south of Oslo, but it wasn’t until just recently that scientists learned just how unique the discovery was. An elusive, single-cell microscopic algae-eater from Lake Ås has been declared one of the world’s oldest living organism.

The organism, known as Collodictyon, evolved nearly a billion years ago and is described as being single celled, 30-50 micrometers long and containing 4 tail-like propellers. While Collodictyon is generally considered a type of eukaryote due to it's structure, the organism does not genetically match any of the known five types of eukaryotes (animal, plant, fungi, algae or protist) in existence.

"We have found an unknown branch of the tree of life that lives in this lake. It is unique," says Dr. Kamran Shalchian-Tabrizi, researcher from the University of Oslo. "It is quite fascinating that we can still find these kinds of organisms after so many years."

Researchers hope that the study of these microscopic organisms will provide insight into what life on Earth looked like hundreds of millions of years ago. Collodictyon have not been discovered anywhere else in the world, but Lake Ås.

Book Review: Oleanna by Julie K. Rose

By Carla Danziger (Reprinted from Amazon.com)

OLEANNA, named for the protagonist of author Julie K. Rose's novel set in western Norway at the turn of the 20th century, offers a profound rendering of one woman's struggle to free herself from the past, exert her independence, and redefine her identity.

In her Author's Note at the end of the book, Rose says that her great-grandfather Johann Tollefson Myklebust emigrated to the United States in 1902 from Norway, leaving behind two sisters, Oleanna and Elisabeth, to tend the isolated farm in Sunnfjord. Unlike so many of us who focus on the stories of our immigrant ancestors after they arrived in America, Rose became intrigued by what it may have been like for those great aunts who were left behind.

Rose’s thorough research through family stories and correspondence, several publications about life in Norway at the time, and her own 2004 travel to the Sognefjord region, informed her ability to immerse herself in the Norway of more than 110 years ago, create empathetic, realistic, and believable characters and, at the same time, imagine the challenges they might have confronted. Among those characters, in addition to Oleanna and Elisabeth are Elisabeth's precocious son Torjus; John who goes to America; Anders, an artist, farmer and eventual love interest; Uncle Gunnar, and several others.

Oleanna is deeply attached to her family's farm on the fjord, and at one point she reflects: "the water, the water. How long ago had her father's people carved out this little corner of land, claimed it from the lake's rocky edges and the forest's dark fence? They had wandered the pilgrim's road to Trondheim, but came back, caught by the high mountains and deep fjords of Sogn. But why here?"

That same water claimed her mother's life and Oleanna still grieves for her. At her mother's grave with Anders, she whispers ‘I miss you so much.’ She covered her face as the broad, warm darkness of grief spread through her. Her shoulders shook and the tears came through gasping sobs. She could feel Anders kneeling nearby and leaned into him. . . . Oleanna asks Anders if it ever gets easier. ‘’The grief can come on you all at once,’ he said. . . . ‘You will be working outside, or walking to church, or looking up at the sky, and you’ll remember something about them. . . .’These remarks are especially poignant when one reads in Rose’s Acknowledgments that she became interested in her Norwegian family because of her mother, who, sadly, died a few months before Rose started her novel.

Oleanna and Anders' romance is cut short by his departure for Bergen, where fervor for Norway's coming independence is running strong. Feeling forsaken Oleanna remains on the farm until she, too, goes to Bergen more in search of herself than Anders. She stays with her Uncle Gunnar and his friend Katrine, a political activist, and contemplates where she belongs. It takes time for the reader to realize that Oleanna's struggle for her freedom, identity and place in the world parallels that of her Norwegian compatriots, especially the women who are campaigning for women's suffrage in the "New Norway."

While some readers may find parts of OLEANNA slow, it is in the genius in Rose's plotting and in her use of Norway's history, her wonderful descriptive settings, and likeable characters that have led me to the conclusion that Rose is indeed a gifted writer. I hope we'll be hearing more from her.

District 3 President's Message
Fra Presidenten, Gail Ekloff

One duty I must fulfill, as past VP. Notification came from International regarding a Founders award that we should have presented to Fredheim Lodge at the District convention. Fredheim Lodge #3-242 had 38% growth in 2011 and received a Founders Award with a $100.00 Congratulations.

This year’s conventions are behind us! I hope everyone took time to enjoy July and the crazy weather Mother Nature has sent our way.

I’m working hard to form committees to address the uncertainty of Land of the Vikings. It is my hope that we can all come together to support the District and the LOV board with their future events.

I am cognizant of the new VP Mary Andersen’s presentation at the convention on the LOV strategic Planning committees Long Range Business Plan. We are currently taking steps to prepare for the “what-if’s” at Land of the Vikings.

In the next few months the board will develop our goals for the District. We’ll review these goals at the Board Meeting and form a strategic plan that hopefully makes 2013 a success for our district!

All lodges and zones should be taking advantage of the Sons of Norway website and the 3D website to list your meetings and share your special events. If any of you have questions regarding how to use the web site please feel free to contact the 3D Publicity Director, Ron Martinsen, he will be glad to guide you in your efforts.

Finally, please make sure your new 2013 Lodge calendars are sent to Ron and the new 3D secretary, Julia Nilsen. (Zone directors should send theirs as well.) This will enable us to spread the word about the events and meetings each lodge will have.

I know that time is precious to us all, but please try and make it a priority to visit a nearby lodge once during the year... maybe it should be a goal for all of us!

Over these next two years the District motto will be; Communicate — Collaborate — Achieve. So let’s get started!

Mange Takk
Alt for denne gangen
Gail

Icelandic Movie: NÓI
Monday, September 24, 8 p.m.
St. John’s Church
Wisconsin Ave. & Bradley Blvd., Chevy Chase, MD
American Scandinavian Association monthly meeting.
Is he the village idiot or a genius in disguise? 17 year old Nóí drifts through life on a remote fjord in the north of Iceland. Nóí dreams of escaping from this white-walled prison with Iris, a city girl who works in a local gas station. But his clumsy attempts at escape spiral out of control and end in complete failure. Only a natural disaster will shatter Nóí’s universe and offer him a window into a better world.

Holiday Festival & Bazaar Volunteers Needed
We’ve started the Holiday Festival & Bazaar planning for 2012 and will need volunteers in order for this to be our best Festival ever — culturally as well as benefiting the Lodge financially. In the months leading up to the bazaar, volunteers can help with: publicity, inventory, ordering, scheduling cultural performers, logistics, pricing items, and many other tasks.

If you can spare a little time, or a lot, email Susie at bazaar@norwaydc.org.

October Newsletter Deadline
Please submit all newsletter items by Saturday, September 22, as the newsletter editor will be traveling at the end of the month. Editor Clarissa Peterson editor@norwaydc.org or 202-285-9585.
This land is your land, this land is my land. Come and enjoy, bring your family & friends. You don’t have to be a member to enjoy all that LOV has to offer.

How exciting would it be to:

 Please park in the Christ Lutheran Church parking lot (entrance directly across the street from the Norway House).

From Beltway or I-66: Go west from Beltway on 66. Take Exit 60, Rt. 123 (Chain Bridge Rd.) south toward Fairfax. Proceed about a half mile. Turn right on Rt. 50 west (also Rt. 29, Lee Highway, and Fairfax Blvd.). Stay in the right lane. Just after the 3rd traffic light, turn right on Meredith Dr. (which is between a Merchants Tire store and a Texaco gas station). Turn left immediately behind the gas station into the church parking lot.

From Rt. 50/29: Go west from the Beltway about 5.33 miles. After crossing Rt. 123 (Chain Bridge Rd.), stay in the right lane. Just after the 3rd traffic light, turn right on Meredith Dr. (which is between a Merchants Tire store and a Texaco gas station). Turn left immediately behind the gas station into the church parking lot.

Metro & bus: From Ballston Metro station (on the Orange Line), take either the 1C or 1Z bus toward Inova Fairfax Hospital. The bus will go down Lee Highway/Fairfax Blvd. (Rt. 50/29). Get off about 40 min. later at Meredith Drive (after Warwick Ave.).
